HyperboleDesign

Intern

January 2010 – present

I currently work as an intern building websites with various small to medium sized companies. I specialize in frontend development (HTML / CSS).

Grandpa-George

Web Developer

April 2009 – February 2010

This involved working as a well rounded web developer. This included working as a frontend developer (HTML / CSS), backend developer (PHP), building heavily with WordPress, and local server administrator.

Apple, Inc

Specialist / Visuals Merchandising Lead

October 2007 – March 2009

Being a Specialist involved engaging the customers on a personal level and talking about the various Apple products. I was also the lead employee on the visuals team which specialized in overnights for big product launches, and setting up new display items.
